

NAJA Travel Stipend Application

Purpose

TV Producers are eligible to apply for travel stipends to attend the Native American Journalists Association, August 9-12 in Tulsa, OK. In partnership with NAJA, NAPT will present a series of workshops intended to non-fiction filmmakers.

Eligibility

Open to individuals who have a track record of producing programs about Native American subject matter, or who have been involved in Public Broadcasting.

Deadline

Postmark deadline: July 10, 2006.

Grant Amount

Travel stipends will cover transportation, registration and lodging.

Application Procedure

To assist in the review of your proposal, submit:

- One signed copy of the application form.
- One copy of an application narrative, which includes:
 1. Name and address.
 2. One copy of resume or biographical information.
 3. Statement of how this opportunity will advance the applicant's skills or knowledge, and is important at this point in career development.

Evaluation

Evaluations are due 30 days from the ending date of NAJA.

Information required on the Evaluation Form includes description and comments on the project, rating (with explanation) of the activities, number of events attended, actual number of individuals benefiting (attendance), and financial report.

Subsequent grants are dependent upon receipt of complete evaluation reports.

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Tribal Affiliation: _____

AGREEMENT: I certify that the application information is true and complete to the best of my knowledge. It is agreed that the undersigned is authorized to abide by the relevant Terms, Conditions and Guidelines. In addition, the undersigned gives NAPT permission to duplicate submitted documentation for use in the grant review process.

Signature: _____ Date: _____

Photocopy form for your records. Be sure to make a copy of the complete application packet before submission.