CAST OF CHARACTERS

PATTY JONES— Famous, award-winning country singer and host of a long-running music variety show

LORETTA— A 13-year-old Indian girl who feels like an outsider in her own family; very artistic and studious, and a science fiction/fantasy geek

VERNA YAHOLA—The A 35-year-old Creek Indian woman who is owner of the All Nations Café. She's more than a little bit country and generous to a fault.

MERLE, JR. — The 25-year-old truck-driving brother of Verna. He is as handsome and kind as Indian men come!

RICHARD DOOLITTLE — A 37-year-old Indian man from the Pawnee Tribe. He is the self-proclaimed leader of American Indian Liberation (AIL) who lives for lights, cameras and media attention.

BONNIE DOOLITTLE— Richard's 35-year-old sister and partner-in-crime. She's an iron fist in a deerskin glove—and an aspiring singer.

EMMITT TSINAJINNIE— The 50-year-old Navajo fry cook at the All Nations Café. He is the rock that holds the All Nations Cafe and Verna together.

DESMOND TSINAJINNIE— Emmit's 9-year-old son who is a Beatles fanatic and very precocious.

CLYDE CHUPCO— The 40-year-old D.J. and outrageous host of The Voice of the People, an all-Indian music and news radio program that broadcasts live from the café from the Creek Nation.

ETTAWALTERS— A 57-year-old Chippewa woman from Minnesota who is a bingo fanatic and Verna's confidante.

DANNY DACRON— A 27-year-old punk rock star and trendsetter from England. His latest obsessions are Verna, Native Americans and the All Nations Café.
